If you are interested in learning how to be a more effective advocate for children, join us for our annual Speaking Up for Children - Kentucky PTA's Advocacy Training on Friday, November 2, 2018.

Things to do in September

- Even if your officers won’t change for the upcoming school year, please complete the 2018 - 2019 PTA/PTSA Officer & Chairman Information Form and send it to the Kentucky PTA. If your election is not held until classes resume in the fall, give us the name of a contact person for the interim.

- All PTAs / PTSAs are required to complete the 2017-2018 Financial Review Form and send it to both Kentucky PTA and your school’s principal by June 30. It is necessary to appoint a financial review committee now, so they may go to work as soon as the PTA books close on June 30.

Please make sure you are sending all mail to our post office box:

How to Ask People to Join PTA/PTSA
(source: Membership Recruitment and Retention Manual)

Now that you are in the swing of your membership drive here are some tips on the Reasons/Methods of asking people to join your PTA/PTSA.

Reasons for Asking: 1. You are asking for a good cause - By asking someone to join PTA/PTSA you are empowering that person to help make a difference in his or her child's life, one of the best ways parents can be involved and show their support for their children is by joining PTA/PTSA. 2, PTA is the most recognized school organization - People understand what PTAs/PTSAs do for schools and are more inclined to join a recognized school organization. 3. The audience probably expects you to ask. - If people expect you to ask them to join and you don't they might think they are not needed or are not welcome.

Methods of Asking: 1. Consider why someone should join PTA/PTSA - One way to focus your sales pitch is to consider the most likely reasons a prospective member might have for joining PTA/PTSA. 2. Build your case - Going straight to a yes-or-no questions especially “Do you want to join?” - It could cut off a conversation and they could say no before you can provide an effective case for joining the PTA/PTSA. 3. The “ask” should be personal, powerful and meaningful - You can help the success of the “ask” by making eye contact...
Reflections News

The 2018-2019 Reflections theme "Heroes Around Me" is the theme young artists will use to create their next award-winning pieces. For more information on starting a Reflections contest in your school, call 502.226.6607 or email reflectionskypta@gmail.com. To know more about about reflection go to kypta.org.

Contact Austin Nelson for more details. austinnelson0301@gmail.com with parents, asking if they have questions, and sharing why PTA is important to your school. 4. Use the ‘backpack express” only as supplementary route for recruitment. - If other groups make face-to-face “asks” explaining in details why the parents should be involved, while PTA/PTSA is sending home filers that may or may not make it out of children's bags, then PTA/PTSA is not going to win as many members.

Overcome Objections: Most objections to joining PTA fall into one of four areas when joining the PTA/PTSA

- Time
- Impact
- Perceived Value
- Cost

Time - Everyone time is precious so we need to explain that every members does not have to volunteer. Therefore you need to explain that PTA/PTSA appreciates everyone's membership. With each member increase PTA/PTSA ability to advocate for children at an higher level.

Impact - Parents want to know if their membership in PTA/PTSA is going to have a positive impact, if it will benefit their children. The answer will be YES!!!

Perceived Value - Explain to your membership that they will get resources and information from the National PTA. (example: Free e-learning classes, back to school kit, The PTA Parent, a monthly electronic newsletter, PTA take Action Network, federal legislation monthly newsletter and so much more)

Cost - PTA/PTSA membership is one of the most cost-effective investment parents can make in their children's education and schools.

I have attached a Script(s) to use for Overcoming Objections when asking EVERYONE to join your PTA/PTSA.

New Proposed Graduation Requirements Offer Flexibility and Accountability

Does handing a diploma to a high school graduate mean that he or she is ready to succeed in the next phase of life? Does it even indicate that he or she is confident in reading and mathematics? Under Kentucky's current graduation requirements, the answer is no, which is why I believe now is the time for us to make significant revisions to our requirements.

Kentucky now boasts one of the highest high school graduation rates in the country at nearly 90 percent. Our high school graduation rate ranks seventh in the nation. The improvement we have made over the past decade has been extraordinary. But our high school graduation rate has not translated into the successes in post secondary education or training that you would expect. [read more]
